Everything you can do to enhance your learning experience

Fill out your profile info

Make sure you fill out your profile. Peers and prospective employers often follow along on your learning journey. It's an easy way to build rapport.

Connect your social accounts

Now that you've gotten a start coding, connect your GitHub account and your projects will automatically show up on your profile! Web presence can be a vital component of a developer's resume.

Set your goals

Goals help us send you concrete steps and encouragement. Also, when you explicitly state your goals, you'll find additional motivation to reach them.
